Veteran arts volunteer to be honored by the Arts & Business Council

Stacy Dutton of West Mt. Airy will be honored as the Arts & Business Council of Greater Philadelphia's Business On Board Member of the Year on Friday, April 29 at its Annual Awards Luncheon, Arts Magnifique! at the Pennsylvania Convention Center.

Dutton has served as President of the Board of the Lantern Theater Company in Philadelphia since 2008 and it is for this role that she is being honored.

In a letter of recommendation, Lantern Theater Company Managing Director Anne Shuff says that Dutton led the transformation of the board to include more members with critical skills that were missing and important community contacts. Shuff also cites Dutton's role in a fund raising campaign that was particularly influential in these times of economic instability in the arts and cultural sector.

"Stacy's consistent willingness to give of her time really sets her apart," Shuff says. "She assists with grant applications, hosts events in her home and even grabbed a paint brush last year to work along side Lantern staff to help give our facility a new look."

Dutton also serves as a Vice-Chairman of the Philadelphia Orchestra Association where she chairs the Investment Committee and serves on the Audit and Finance Committees. She is also a recent past Council Member of the Pennsylvania Horticultural Society and continues to serve on its Investment Committee.

The Arts & Business Council of Greater Philadelphia matches business leaders with arts and culture programs for mutual benefit (www.artsandbusinessphila.org). This year's Awards Luncheon, sponsored by KPMG and Safeguard Scientifics, will be held at the Pennsylvania Convention Center. This particular award is sponsored by Shire Pharmaceuticals.
