ARTS & BUSINESS COUNCIL OF GREATER PHILADELPHIA APPOINTS CHRISTOPHER HOLLAND TO BOARD

PHILADELPHIA – August 20, 2004 – Donald Caldwell, board chair of the Arts & Business Council of Greater Philadelphia, is pleased to announce the appointment of Christopher Holland to the Council board.

Christopher (Chris) Holland is vice president and treasurer at ARAMARK Corporation where he oversees corporate finance, treasury operations, cash management, employee benefits finance, and business development. ARAMARK is a world leader in providing award-winning food and facilities management services to health care institutions, universities and school districts, stadiums and arenas, international and domestic corporations, as well as providing uniform and career apparel. Headquartered in Philadelphia, ARAMARK has approximately 200,000 employees serving clients in 18 countries.

Holland joined ARAMARK from J.P. Morgan Chase & Co., where he had held positions of increasing responsibility since 1988. Most recently, he served as vice president - investment banking, where he had primary responsibility for managing J.P. Morgan's investment banking relationships with companies in the medical device sector, helping them with mergers and acquisitions and the underwriting of debt and equity securities.

A resident of Princeton, New Jersey, Holland earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in Economics and Political Science at Drew University, and a Master of Business Administration degree from New York University.

The Arts & Business Council of Greater Philadelphia fosters and builds partnerships between business and the arts that are mutually beneficial and contribute to the economic and cultural vitality of the Greater Philadelphia Region. Since its inception in 1981, the Council has provided services to the arts and cultural community and led broad initiatives valued at over $19 million by engaging more than 1,000 business employees from 150 area businesses. The Council is a chapter of the national Arts & Business Council, Inc.® and an affiliate of the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce.
